MILO CANDIDATES' PICNIC

A LARGE CROWD IN ATTENDANCE FROM EVERYWHERE.

Indian Relics on Exhibition Owned by J. W. Johnson That Had Been Handed Down For a Century. Good Speeches Made.

The big candidates' picnic and barbecue given at Milo yesterday has come to a close and the orators of the day are today musing on the impressions their several speeches left on the voters who heard them.

Ardmore was well represented at the picnic and until a late hour last night candidates and their friends were returning from Milo. They all brought a report of a pleasant time, a hearty welcome and an invitation to return.

At an early hour yesterday morning picnickers began to arrive and by ten o'clock the grounds were filled with a jolly crowd. Prominently among the crowd was the candidates for office. Dr. J. F. Young acted as chairman and introduced the speakers.

Each orator was allowed from five to thirty-five minutes in which to make his address. Every subject in the constitution and pertaining to the new state was touched upon by those who spoke.

A recess of an hour between speeches was taken and dinner served on the ground. The feast the Milo people had prepared was a sumptuous one. After dinner Miss Willie Johnson, daughter of J. W. Johnson of Milo, opened the evening's entertainment with a recitation which was received with an encore.

The evening was given over to speeches by the candidates and some forty candidates addressed the crowd.

Among the features of the picnic were some old Indian relics, displayed by Mrs. J. W. Johnson. The relics were handed down from her ancestors and were suggestive of the weapons and household goods used by the red men more than a hundred years ago. Principally among these relics were a pair of earrings worn by Mrs. Johnson's grandmother more than 160 years ago, also a beaded tobacco sack, made by squaws more than 197 years ago. An Indian wigwag such as was used years ago by the red men was also displayed. Bows and arrows, such as the Indian's only weapons, with which the noble hunters killed many deer and buffalo, and which has been presented to Mr. Johnson's son by Vera Perry, a relic 160 years old, was also displayed.

Tom Fuller spoons made from buffalo horns, 110 years of age, tomahawks and peace pipes used by the chiefs 150 years ago, forks made by the Indians before they came to this country and while in Mississippi, and many other interesting relics were shown.

Among the candidates who attended the picnic were: W. B. Frame, candidate for county clerk of Carter county; W. E. McManis, candidate for sheriff of Carter county; A. K. Swan, candidate for county judge of Carter county; Lee Cruce, candidate for governor; H. M. Furman, candidate for United States senator and S. P. Freeman, candidate for attorney general, were represented by Green Patterson, J. C. Little, candidate for state senator; George N. McKnight, candidate for register of the federal office; and Andy Hutchins, candidate for treasurer of Carter county; J. D. Payne, candidate for register of deeds of Carter county; D. M. Rumph, candidate or treasurer of Carter county; J. A. McLaughlin, candidate for county clerk of Carter county; John Mulkey, candidate for district clerk of Carter county; J. R. Whayne, candidate for county clerk of Carter county; W. B. Weaver, candidate for constable of two Woodford precinct; J. F. Carter, candidate for county clerk of Carter county; M. F. Veal, candidate for representative of Carter county; S. S. Tolson, candidate for register of deeds of Carter county; Stillwell H. Russell, candidate for judge of the 11th district; T. J. Pollock, candidate for sheriff of Carter county; H. R. Jeffries, candidate for superintendent of public instruction; W. J. Booth, candidate for county school superintendent; Will Lasley, candidate for constable, northern precinct; C. E. Maddox, justice of the peace; J. A. Williams, justice of the peace; J. F. Young, representative of Carter county; Sidney J. Davidson, constable; W. C. Kendall, county commissioner; Jim Mathews, county attorney; C. S. Beavers, state senator; A. Eddleman, judge Elbert district; Chas. H. Davenport, justice of the peace precinct No. 4; W. F. Freeman, county judge; L. R. Mason, county judge; J. C. Thompson, district judge; G. B. Salver, constable district No. 7; and H. H. Brown, county attorney.

AIRDOME THEATRE CROWDED

Sterling Stock Co. Supporting Miss Summers Makes Many Friends.

Another immense crowd was delighted with the performance of "Kathleen" by this clever company last night. Tonight brings forth the laugh provoking farce comedy in three acts entitled "A Fox Boy," with new specialties between acts. Tomorrow night the company's feature production, "Faust," will be the bill, given as a benefit performance in behalf of the Guild of the St. John Episcopal church, on which occasion the prices will be advanced to 25 and 50 cents, not because of its being a benefit performance, but because of the heavy royalty exacted by the Morrison estate, now controlling acting version. Mr. Triplett has starred Miss Summers in this master piece for the past two seasons, playing all of the large cities south. The Dallas News, under date of Jan. 4th, in speaking of her performance said: "Miss Summers as Marguerite," was seen in quite as good form as when she last appeared here with Lewis Morrison's company." Mr. Triplett carries a vast amount of beautiful scenery and all of the bewildering electrical effects for this little production to gather with the beautiful costumes, historically correct.

The voting contest at present stands as follows:

The most popular young lady in Ardmore: Miss Natalie Williams 333
 Miss May London 223
 Miss Myrtle Faison 294
 Miss Frankie Wymore 265
 The homeliest man in Ardmore: Mr. G. A. Porter 239
 Mr. Ray Bradford 239
 Mr. Rabbit Sanders 244
 Mr. Bill Cassidy 134
 Mr. M. Goldsmith 115
 The presents to be awarded are on display in window at Hotchkiss' jewelry store.

THE GOULD DIVORCE

Mr. Howard Gould's Suit For Separation Likely to Develop Some Highly Interesting Testimony in Op'n Court.

New York, May 22.—Developments of an interesting character are expected to follow the serving of the summons in the separation suit brought against Howard Gould by his wife, formerly Kathryn Clemmons, the actress. The bill of particulars, which has been drawn up is a voluminous affair and charges among other things, abandonment and cruel and inhuman treatment. Mrs. Gould, it is stated, will also ask the court to grant her $250,000 a year as alimony.

A sensational feature in the allegation of conspiracy in connection with the case. This feature has already been investigated by Police Commissioner Bingham, as some members of the detective bureau are said to be involved. District Attorney Jerome has taken cognizance of the rumors in this regard and will call on Commissioner Bingham today to learn whether the case as it stands at present, warrants an inquiry by his office.

No papers brought in the suit have been filed yet in the county clerk's office, as issue has not been joined. But counsel for the complainant have announced that the summons and complaint were served on Delaney Nicoll, as counsel for Mr. Gould, and this is enough, under the laws of the state to bring the suit within the class of "cases pending." The suit will likely be tried, in open court as it is not usual to send separation cases to a referee.

Howard Gould, third son of Jay Gould, and Viola Kathryn Clemmons were married on Oct. 13, 1898, at the Holland House by Rev. Dr. William M. Smith. The wedding was an elaborate affair, and the supper afterward took place on Mr. Gould's yacht, the Niagara, on which the couple spent their honeymoon.

Miss Clemmons was born in Illinois, and her real name was Viola Dayan, but in San Francisco she appeared in a musical comedy as Kathryn Clemmons.

Howard Gould is 33 years of age and his wife a year or so younger. They have not lived together since July last, and rumors of separation suits, divorce suits and other suits have been rife ever since. He has been stopping at the Waldorf-Astoria of late, and has refused to discuss his differences with his wife.

LEADING DEMOCRATS

Of the Nation Will Aid in the Fight for Adoption of the Constitution and Stump the Country. Secretary's Statement.

Washington, May 22.—A statement has been issued by Secretary Charles A. Edwards of the Democratic congressional committee, pledging to Oklahoma Democrats the hearty support of the committee in the political fight in the new state. In his statement Secretary Edwards says:

"Acting under instructions from Chairman James Griggs I have talked lately with a number of the leading Democrats of the country, and they will be active in this fight for Oklahoma. I have sent to the state committee of Oklahoma a list of twenty of the leading Democrats of the house of representatives who have agreed to take the stump in Oklahoma and be in the thick of the fight from start to finish. Every man who believes in justice, believes that the constitution lately framed by the Oklahoma convention ought to end will be approved. There are no better or more intelligent citizens in this union than those who reside in that great commonwealth. I make this statement advisedly from personal acquaintance with them, and no people have been done a greater injustice than they, by being refused stardom so long.

"To deny them now what they most desire would be nothing short of a crime, that crime especially applying to the four hundred thousand school children in the new state."

POINTS TO REMEMBER

Every Appliance for Woman's Work Should Be the Best for Its Purpose.

There is as great a difference in the cost of making a sewing machine as there is in making a watch. A cheap watch will indicate time with fair accuracy for a short time; fairly good stitching can be done on some of the old patterns of cheap sewing machines when they are new, but they always work hard, are noisy, and soon wear out.

Every Singer and Wheeler & Wilson machine is tested by actual sewing at the factory; it is always ready for every kind of stitching and will do better work and do it longer than any other, because it is of better design and construction.
